

College Slates Book Collecting Event, Requests Participation

Books — old and new, thick and thin, first editions and paperbacks — will be the stars of the first annual book fair staged by the Library Associates of Marymount College in mid-October on the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

The Book Fair is a two-part involving the donation of books to Marymount between now and October 12 and a three-day book fair beginning October 12.

At the fair, book lovers will be able to browse through specially built book stalls erected at the Palos Verdes Peninsula shopping center and select the donated volumes at greatly reduced prices.

'ANY NATURE' Books of any nature may be donated, according to book fair coordinators Mr. and Mrs. J. Deare Pearson II of Rolling Hills. "Fiction and non-fiction, children's books and any other volumes will be gratefully accepted," Mrs. Pearson said.

"The fair is a project to assist Marymount College in increasing its library. Proceeds from the fair will go toward purchasing needed volumes used in the college curriculum."

Mrs. Pearson also pointed out that the facilities of the Marymount library are open to all Peninsula and Torrance residents, which gives a wider community scope to the book fair.

REMAIN EMPTY
"The college library building has been built to accommodate a full student and extension division of an anticipated 1000; so that numerous shelves remain to be filled," Pearson added. "We hope the Fair will provide some of the revenue necessary."

Collection boxes will be located throughout the South Bay area, where interested book donors may contribute their volumes.

Society Offers Health Booklets

Torrance parents who have tried to search their memories for the date when Tommy had his last polio shot may want to avail themselves of a free offer of "Your Child's Health Record," a handy four-page booklet just published by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

This health record has space to record the child's name, date of birth, blood type, immunizations, tests, allergies, surgery, and physical examinations, including eye and dental examinations. It will prove an invaluable aid in registering a child for a new school or when changing physicians.

To obtain a free copy, parents may write to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Dept. NY, 16 East 40th St., New York 16, N. Y.
